

Genetic labels not involving the self-described group

Grey points include exact and pairwise-involving assignments; highlighted points use the strict non-involving definition

